

GROUND RULES

- 1. BE KIND & GENEROUS: be respect and courteous to all members of the group and the waitstaff too. Give the benefit of the doubt, see the glass half full, and tip the waitstaff well... they brought you drinks. :)
- 2. LISTEN: frustration boils over in a group conversation when people are not listening. If you are not paying attention, don't engage the conversation. Just go to the bar and drink by yourself... it's more productive and enjoyable for everyone.
- 3. RULE OF 1's: allow room in the conversation for everyONE paying attention. ONE point at a time keeps it concise. Don't be a wind bag, keep your response to approximately ONE minute.
- 4. RULES OF LOGIC: (1) the Law of Non-Contradiction states that contradictory statements cannot both be true. (2) the Law of the Excluded Middle states that all propositions are either true or can be negated, nothing in between. (3) the Law of Identity states that everything has unique characteristics that is the essence of such thing. Words have unique meaning and some say Socrates believed that wisdom begins with the defining of terms.
- 5. OUT YOUR BIAS: call it volition, will, or your heart's desire... we all want things to be true before we look at reason, logic, & evidence. Be honest about your bias, we are here to learn from each other's point of view.
- 6. LAYMAN'S TERMS: it's obvious you're the smartest person here, but keep it a secret. :)

If you agree to the ground rules and have already dropped your index card in the bucket, jump in the conversation!

>>>> WELCOME, FOLLOW THESE STEPS! <<<<<

1. Grab a pen and an index card. Looking at the card horizontally, draw a small star in the upper left corner. Flip the index card over and draw a small smiley face in the same location on the back side of the card, but do not write your name anywhere on the card.
2. Search your mind, heart, spiritual center, or soul if you have one. If not, just search the place in your gut that burns with anxiety when you know tomorrow is going to be a super busy day and you can't fall asleep. Think about the deep stuff that makes your brain wrestle itself.
3. On the side of the index card where you drew a small star, write down one clear statement or question pertaining to STEP 2.

MAKE YOUR ANSWER ANONYMOUS!

4. Flip the card over. You should see a smiley face in the upper left corner. Now, be funny. Write something that makes you laugh or make up a joke. Maybe write something ironic about the other side of the card.

KEEP IT ANONYMOUS!

5. When finished, look for the host and the "Bucket of Pub Philosophy Jokesters." Drop your unfolded index card in the bucket. Smile at people. Remember, you are here to have fun, learn stuff, and make friends.

DON'T BE A JERK! :)

6. Keep a lookout for people who may not know what is happening. Welcome them and hand out one of these pamphlets, an index card, and a pen.

YOU'RE NOT AN A-HOLE!

THE GOAL OF PUB PHILOSOPHY JOKESTERS IS TO CREATE A FRIENDLY & FUN ENVIRONMENT TO explore deep questions & ideas.

WE ALL BELIEVE CERTAIN THINGS TO BE TRUE, YET WE

ARRIVE AT THESE CONCLUSIONS BY ONE OF TWO WAYS.

*Reason, logic, and scientific evidence, or...
blind acceptance of pop-culture opinion.*

WHY DO YOU BELIEVE WHAT YOU BELIEVE?

Keep going! -->>
